ROYAL VISIT.

SECOND DAY'S DOINGS.

UNIVERSITY CEREMONY.

Masonic Address Presented.

The second day of the Prince's visit has been favoured with better weather, an occasional gleam of sunshine breaking through the clouds. Yesterday our Royal visitor had a very busy day, playing in a polo match in the afternoon and attending a banquet at Government House in the evening, while the illuminations and fish lantern procession were both too good to miss. His Royal Highness spent a quiet time this morning until eleven o'clock when he met the school children on the cricket ground. Thereafter he proceeded to the Pavilion where he received the University's honorary degree laid the foundation stone of St. Stephen's Girls' College and received a Masonic address. Having lunched with the Admiral aboard the "Alacrity," he proceeded to Happy Valley for the races. This evening's engagements include a Chinese banquet and the Pavilion ball.

WITH THE CHILDREN.

CHEERS FOR THE PRINCE.

Dressed in colonel's uniform the Prince left Government House soon after 11 o'clock this morning and motored to the Murray Parade Ground, where he inspected the 2nd King's Regiment drawn up in a hollow square. Walking down the ranks, he stopped to speak a few words to a man here and there. He next addressed the troops, congratulating them on their smart appearance. Three cheers were then given for the Prince, and then the Band played "God bless the Prince of Wales." Followed more cheers as the Prince and his Staff departed down Garden Road, in front of the Barracks, to the Cricket Ground to inspect the school children lined up along the railings on three sides of the ground.

The Prince was met at the entrance to the ground by H.E. the Governor, Sir William Rees Davies, K.C., H.E. Major-General Sir John Fowler, K.C.M.G., C.B., D.S.O., the Hon. Mr. E. A. Irving (Director of Education), Captain Neville, R.M.L.I., (H.E. the Governor's A.D.C.) and Mr. Eric Rice (Private Secretary).

After passing down the ranks of a Guard of Honour of Red Cross nurses from the Belilios Public School in their neat white and blue uniform, under Dr. (Mrs.) Hickling, the Prince inspected the children, stopping before several to ask a few questions.

There were representatives of all the local boys' and girls' Schools with their teachers present, and British, Portuguese, Eurasian, Indian, Japanese and Chinese children all joined together to give the Prince three hearty cheers on the call of Master George Bond, of the Kowloon British School. Other cheers were raised as the Prince passed from the ranks of one school to another. The climax was a tremendous roar, in which the adults joined.

The Prince then left the Cricket Ground by the gate opening on to the tram lines between the Supreme Court and the City Hall, to inspect the men of the 1/102nd King Edward's Own Grenadiers. At the Prince's special request this opportunity was afforded him of inspecting the regiment of which his grandfather was Colonel in Chief.

The Indians were drawn up two deep on either side of the road between the railings of the Cricket Ground and the Supreme Court, stretching to the entrance of the Pavilion. The Prince walked down the lines on the left of the road and then inspected the lines on the right. More cheers were raised by the crowd on the Cricket Ground as His Royal Highness took his departure to the Pavilion. Outside the entrance of the Pavilion the Prince inspected an Indian Guard of Honour to the accompaniment of music played by the Pipers of the H.K.S.B., R.G.A.

UNIVERSITY CEREMONY.

HONORARY DEGREE FOR H. R. H.

Soon after half past eleven the members of the University congregation, wearing their academical gowns, filed up the central aisle of the Pavilion. The Chancellor, with the Vice Chancellor, the Registrar, the Deans of Faculties and one or two other high University officials took their seats on the Royal dais and the remainder grouped themselves around the sides. The order of the procession was as follows:—

His Excellency The Chancellor.
The Mace Bearer.
The Vice-Chancellor.
The Dean, Medical Faculty.
The Dean, Arts Faculty.
The Treasurer.
The Dean, Engineering Faculty.
The Registrar and Hon. Dr. Claud Severn, Sir William Rees Davies, The Right Rev. The Bishop of Victoria, Hon. Mr. H. E. Pollock, Hon. Mr. E. R. Hallifax, Hon. Mr. Lau Chu Pak, Hon. Mr. A. G. Stephen, Hon. Mr. T. L. Perkins, Mr. G. T. Elkins, Mr. C. Montague Ede, Mr. Ho Kom Tong, Mr. Chau Siu Ki, Dr. J. T. C. Johnson, Rev. C. B. Shann, Mr. Ho Kwong, Dr. C. Forsyth, Dr. R. M. Gibson, Prof. G. T. Byrne, Dr. C. W. McKenny, Prof. W. Vickers, Mr. M. P. Talati, Prof. R. K. M. Simpson, Mr. H. B. L. Dowbiggin, Mr. J. B. Wood, Dr. C. M. Heanly, Mr. Danaher, Mr. R. W. Barney, Dr. H. Balean, Mr. Lai Hsi Chai, Dr. J. Fenton, H. E. Sir John Fowler, Hon. Mr. J. H. Kemp, The Right Revd. Bishop Pozzoni, Hon. Mr. C. McL. Messer, Hon. Mr. P. A. Irving, Hon. Mr. Chow Shou Son, Sir Robert Ho Tung, Hon. Mr. E. V. D. Parr, Hon. Mr. A. O. Lang, Prof. H. G. Earle, Mr. Ho Fook, Mr. Ng Hon Tsz, Prof. F. A. Redmond, Rev. Dr. T. W. Pearce, Mr. S. W. Tso, Dr. C. Marriott, Dr. G. M. Harston, Prof. D. C. H. Florance, Dr. G. E. Aubrey, Prof. C. Y. Wang, Mr. R. H. Kotewall, Prof. M. H. Roffey, Mr. Mok Kon Sang, Mr. J. Ring, Dr. W. J. Woodman, Mr. R. Robertson, Rev. J. Romanis Lee, Dr. G. H. Thomas, Mr. Au Tai Tin, Mr. B. G. Birch.

In the body of the Pavilion were the members of the masonic societies who were later to present an address to H.R.H., and a big crowd of University students and girls from St. Stephen's College. The University officials had not long been seated when a burst of cheering was heard outside, followed by the "smack, smack, smack" of the guard of honour presenting arms.

Presently the Chancellor and the vice Chancellor disappeared into the Prince's private sitting room and the Registrar picked up a scarlet and green robe which had been draped over the back of H.R.H's chair on the left of the dais. A stentorian cheer above which could be heard the shrill "toot toot" of the tin whistles (that seem, from the students' point of view at any rate, to be an indispensable adjunct of University ceremonials) went up as the Prince, accompanied by Admiral Halsey and wearing the academic robe above his khaki uniform made his appearance on the dais accompanied by the Chancellor and Vice Chancellor.

When the noise had subsided the Chancellor declared the congregation open and the Vice Chancellor (Sir William Brunyate) stepped forward and addressed the gathering. He said:

Your Excellency, Ladies and Gentlemen,

We are assembled to-day, away from our usual meeting place yet with most of our accustomed ceremonial, for the purpose of conferring upon H.R.H. Edward, Prince of Wales, the honorary degree that he has graciously consented to accept at our hands. In thus consenting to the association of his name with this University, H.R.H. is only continuing the traditions of his house. His Majesty the King has already honoured us by becoming our Patron, while the most prized of our entrance scholarships open to British, as contrasted with pure Chinese, subjects are the King Edward VII Scholarships.

TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF.

IF you want a clear head and good digestion you must not let your bowels become clogged with poisonous waste from the body, as is always the case when you become constipated. Proper food, an abundance of water and plenty of outdoor exercise should keep your bowels regular. When that fails you should take Chamberlain's Tablets. They cause a gentle movement of the bowels and are easy and pleasant to take.

HONGKONG, FRIDAY, APRIL 7, 1922

THE WINNER OF HEARTS.

"Dafydd ddaw." That, according to an encyclopedia, is Welsh for David has come. He came, was seen, and he conquered. He is a winner of hearts. That is his job, when travelling about the Empire. Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David, Prince of Wales, is not 28 for a couple of months yet. He looks younger. This, considering how hard he works, is unexpected. There are men in Hongkong not very much older, who complain of the arduousness of their jobs—junior taipans—who look much older than he. That must be the complaining that does it, scarcely the work. It is real work the Prince does, not only in the sense of its admitted political usefulness, but in the sense that it must often weary him. These two days afford an illustration. They are merely one sample of many more. How thankful H.R.H. must be to get back on his ship, for restful days at sea. Yet he neither grumbles nor brags. He just carries on, with that brave, shy smile of his. Princes may not strike for eight hour days, or we might easily imagine him "downing tools," or at least exclaiming, like our petted Premier his namesake, "I've had just about enough of it." Of course his training must make it easier for him than it would be for others of his age and temperament. He ought to feel, sometimes, like that terrified child who was left alone in an aquarium once, and screamed because the fishes gaped at her so: but if so he never shows it. He has been making public appearances, the leading figure in public ceremonies, for about ten years now; but these colonial crushes must be more oppressive than such tasks as laying foundation stones at Home. An "extremely hard worker," as the commander of his first ship called him, he is also an extremely keen sportsman, and it is likely that in the polo match yesterday we saw him at his best and happiest. Although born too late for "the gorgeous pageantry of times gone by—the tilt, the tournament, the vaulted hall," he is a prince of romance all right, and a fit subject for bardic songs. Why, even on Hongkong the captious, he has by common consent made a good impression. That is a real triumph.

PRINCE OF WALES.

HONGKONG'S WELCOME.

WONDERFUL ILLUMINATIONS.

FISH LANTERN PAGEANT.

HONGKONG BY NIGHT.

A GLOWING GREETING.

COLONY'S RADIANT BLUSH OF WELCOME.

Blushing radiantly beneath the glow of a hundred thousand lanterns Hongkong crooked a rosy forefinger at its Royal visitor last night and beckoned him forth to "lookee." It wanted to show H.R.H. that though it might perhaps have looked a trifle bedraggled in the morning drizzle that was no fair criterion of its charms. Lavishly it had bejewelled itself. It was a ruby necklace studded with lustrous gems that sent their coruscations flashing far and wide. If Hongkong did not appear ravishingly beautiful last night then assuredly it never will.

When the first lanterns were being lit up towards dusk it looked as though the effect of the illuminations would, at any distance, be hopelessly marred. But the drizzle disappeared and the harbour haze lifted so that only the higher levels of the Peak were really obscured. The Peak-folk knew their weather when they hesitated about decking their houses: they said they knew there would be a mist, and so indeed there was. But enough of the Peak was left showing below the skirts of the mist to show the Prince what it would have looked like if we had had the "joss" to secure a clear night for our luminous tribute of welcome.

It was from the harbour that you got the best view of it all. The motor boat people knew that and some of them wanted as much as eight dollars an hour to show you around. Still, even at that price, it was worth it to go winding about amongst that wondrous floating fairyland. There were the lines of warships, each one a glistering outline of dazzling white. Passing them you came upon the Royal cruiser itself, its bulk in comparative darkness save for the big Prince of Wales feathers bound with a circlet of green and red, that sparkled high up abaft the funnels. Towards West Point were the merchantmen with their hulls and masts aglow with lanterns that bobbed lightheartedly in the breeze.

The native craft had done their bit, too. Each junk swung its row of red lanterns and the sampans had two or three apiece. One wished that the junks and the sampans always carried red lanterns, especially the sampans. When you got close to them you could see the dark figures of the oar-wielders silhouetted against the gleam of the lanterns as they pushed their craft silently across the water.

"For look the hunter of the East has caught.
The Sultan's turret in a noose of light."

Old Omar's graphic lines came at once into the mind as one looked across to Kowloon and ran his eye along the erubescent outline which it seemed difficult to identify as the prosaic structures which, in the less kindly glare of daylight, we know to be docks and, wharves, railway stations and godowns. And then, looking back towards Hongkong, there at the Western extremity was the University resplendent with the iridiscence of many coloured lights, and there to the East, at Causeway Bay and Taikoo, were blazing legends which closer scrutiny revealed as "Welcome" and "Our Prince".

Moving along with the stream of lanterned launches that glided down the fairway you saw that the central part of the town was diffused in a glow as of firelight. All along the waterfront from the wall of the naval yard with its huge glittering anchor to Blake Pier the tall building, if you looked closely, threw a roseate reflection on to the streets below that were still ashine with the rain. Up in the sky variegated showers of colour, the handiwork of the Japanese pyrotechnists, rose and fell, adding their lustre to the general refulgence.

And, high above everything, shining its message out to sea that all might know in whose honour was this glowing greeting, was the huge motto atop of Marble Hall:

"GOD BLESS THE PRINCE OF WALES."

STATUE SQUARE.

A blaze of white light, with its background of dull red, the slow movement of a mass of spectators provided a memorable sight at Statue Square last night. One of the Colony's beauty spots, it was the point to which all other illuminations seemed to lead. It provided the final burst of brilliance over an already brilliant scene. The statue of Queen Victoria with its prominent central position was a mass of white electric bulbs, a vivid contrast to the coloured lanterns hung in lavish profusion over the adjacent buildings. From the harbour the Square provided a magnificent spectacle. To the left was the pavilion, its delicately tinted lamps shedding a glow of radiance over the building. Immediately above was the red glow of the Courts of Justice, merging into the decorations of the City Hall. Then the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank Building with its gleaming sign of red and white triangles which go to make up the house flag. On to Prince's Building, and Queen's Building both plentifully adorned with lanterns and on the former the illuminated Persian flag, radiating its rich colours. Then the garlanded pylons surmounted by their white lights, and connected with those of a red hue.

The illuminated streets were but mazes of light. On either hand rose the luminous lines of lanterns, with here and there some legend in white lights. The Hongkong Hotel which by day seemed rather bare, by night was transformed into a mountain of scintillating jewels. A myriad electric bulbs blazed out the national colours, and from the surrounding buildings the Hotel stood out alone—a shining beacon—with marvellous effect.

The scene of magnificence was continued along the water front. Over the Post Office was a crown with the letters "G.R." picked out in white lights. The building of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire was a fine spectacle. The main features of the illuminations were the Prince's feathers, the house flag and the red ensign. To describe each building separately is an impossible task. The effect of the city's illuminations can only be spoken of in general terms. Superlatives might be used to any degree and yet much would remain unsaid. The glory of the day was outshone by the magnificence of the night.

CHINESE MAGIC.

QUAINT FISH LANTERN PROCESSION.

Loosed from dark caverns and lured from deep seas, flaming dragons and scaly fish writhed and swayed along Hongkong's Praya last night in the lambent light of myriad red lanterns paled ever and anon by the unearthly glare of soaring fireworks. Eager to glimpse the strange and gorgeous pageant, dense crowds swarmed the streets, Chinese, European, Japanese, and Indian sharing a common wonderment and fascination. But this quaint procession, almost unreal in its fantastic conception, had an added, a rare, interest—it was a spectacle specially staged for a royal prince, a fairybook prince heir to the throne of the world's greatest empire. Truly the illustrious kings and the pretty maidens, the hoary dragons and the glittering fishes visiting the Isle of Fragrant Streams brought with them the very breath of romance. There was a new glamour in the name Hongkong last night. There was magic.

The late hour at which the official banquet at Government House terminated having left insufficient time the intended tour of the harbour to view the wonderful illuminations had to be abandoned, and the royal visitor limited his inspection to a drive through the crowded streets and a glimpse of the glittering shipping from Blake Pier. The fish lantern procession and its eight hundred men approaching, the Prince with the Governor and Lady Stubbs, took his seat on a special stand at the side of the Pavilion. Many Government House banquet guests were also present, and, thousands of people from all classes thronged the road.

Having left the Happy Valley race course at 9.15 p.m. and swayed, its tortuous way along the Praya, Arsenal Street and Queen's Road, the head of the procession reached the Pavilion shortly after ten o'clock. Strange things the Prince must have seen aplenty in the course of his Indian and Malaya tours, but it required no question to learn that this strange spectacle provided by the native genius of the Chinese race aroused his deepest interest. He was frankly intrigued and delighted.

Fish lantern processions are seen and believed, seen and remembered; but not seen and described. Taking an hour to pass a given point, this one presented over one hundred different kinds of fish, with countless animals, birds, and flowers lending variety. Often the animals were of legendary description. The fishes, however, made in the Shun Tak district of Canton, which holds the making of these lanterns its peculiar pride, were exact models of living ones. Borne aloft on poles with lanterns inside giving the colours a transparent glow, these quaint creations bobbed and jerked along above the heads of the straining crowd.

Incongrous were the glaring arc lamps that found occasional place in the long train of age old pageantry, but they were speedily forgotten in the enthusiasm when a complimentary tableau of Britannia, a small girl in the traditional costume with two little boys as soldier and sailor, swept past bearing aloft a glowing Union Jack and glittering inscription "Welcome." Cheers also greeted two enlarged photographs brightly lit, the one of the Prince framed in a dragon's den as a symbol of royalty, and the other of the Governor framed in a tiger's den in token of his high office. At intervals too, moving on wheeled platforms came wondrous tableaux vivants representing scenes from the Chinese classics which impressed the crowd more by their ingenious staging than by their parable value.

Chief among the more fanciful and awesome monsters in the procession was a huge transparent paper dragon, its writhing form 120 feet long borne aloft by sixty hidden men. Here it pranced and there it darted dashing fearsomely at the delighted crowd or recoiling rapidly until it seemed its elastic sides must part. Opposite the royal stand its agitation became intense. Dashing forward, its great eyes glaring wildly, the monster made deep obeisance to the Prince. Thrice it rakishly kow towed and then with a succession of sinuous movements flopped round the open space in front of the royal stand before jerking away into the surging crowd, doubtless gratified in a dragon's way at the cordial round of applause its performance had drawn from the distinguished spectators.

Music there was in keeping with the glamour of the pageant, five bands scattered among the procession making sounds that must have seemed to the unfamiliar ear weird and strange, singularly yet effective. The intermittent detonation of fireworks added to the general unreality of a scene that will long remain a unique memory, so rich in colour, so quaint in setting, so strong in significance it was.

The procession over, the Prince left the stand with the Governor and Lady Stubbs, but not before he had received a rousing farewell from the multitude. All along the crowded street he was cheered as he slowly motored along the Praya, through Pedder Street and so to Government House where he was to sleep the night after a memorable, if strenuous, first day in distant Hongkong.

OFFICIAL BANQUET.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE GUESTS.

Last night's ubiquitous red lantern had transformed Government House into a fairyland palace when the guests arrived for the official banquet in honour of the Prince of Wales. From the gateway to the main entrance festoons of fairylights hung from bamboo poles and electric bulbs dotting the trees lighted the drive.

Passing from the hall into the drawing room, the guests were received by the Prince. They then passed into the ball room where the banquet was held as no other room in the building was large enough owing to the number of guests invited.

During the banquet the Band of H.M.S. "Hawkins" from the northern terrace played the following programme:—

THE PRINCE AT POLO.

A FINE DISPLAY.

Were it possible that anything was wanting to make the Prince the idol of the public here it was provided by the display in the polo game at Causeway Bay yesterday afternoon. Exhibiting qualities of horsemanship and courage his play has been remarked upon by all who saw it. It is without trace of sycophancy that the experts say he played a "rattling fine game." At the formal functions of the morning he was judged as a Prince; on the sports field he was judged as a man. As both he has come out with the highest honours, he is a Prince and a sport. At polo he was not sparing of himself. A risk to be taken—he took it.

The Prince had a great reception at the Club house which was gaily decorated. He wore a sports coat, with lemon sweater and muffler. He was accompanied by H. E. the Governor and Lady Stubbs, being received by Brigadier General Macnaghten. Music was rendered by the band of the 2nd King's Regt. The Hongkong players were introduced and play commenced.

MIXED TEAMS MATCH.

The first match was between mixed teams captained by the Prince and Lord Louis Mountbatten respectively, and they took the field as follows:—

Reds—No. 1, H.R.H. the Prince of Wales; No. 2, Mr. J. Bell-Irving; No. 3, Lt.-Commander Bowlby: No. 4. Capt. Neville.

Whites.—No. 1, Lieut. Ogilvy: No. 2. Lieut. Lord Louis Mountbatten; No. 3, J. E. H. Bibby: No. 4. Capt. Fisher.

1ST CHUKKA.

On the first chukka opening the Prince immediately took possession of the ball from the throw in, and spurted towards goal, but had hard lines in sending behind. Bibby made a fine run for the whites after the "hit out" but was pulled up by Neville, who sent the ball out to Bowlby. He shot wide. Bibby overran the ball in his next get away, and Ogilvy cleared. Soon afterwards, the Prince, by a good piece of horsemanship, saved the ball from going behind at the corner, and centred with a beautiful backhand stroke which was enthusiastically applauded by the spectators. Neville missed a good shot, and then the ball was confined to mid-field for a while. The Prince suddenly broke away, and racing down the side, centred beautifully. Neville received and scored the first goal of the match. From the throw in, Bell-Irving took the ball down the side and centred well, but there was no one to take it, and the ball went behind. Fisher then broke away for the whites but was pulled up by the Prince. A little before time was called, Ogilvy equalised for the whites from a good pass from Bibby.

2ND CHUKKA.

The Prince's team played with better combination in this chukka. Neville received from the throw in and passed to the Prince with a strong hit. The Prince made a fine run down the centre of the field and finished up with a shot which just missed. Mid-field play followed, and finally Bibby drove the ball over the boards. Bell-Irving got away from the throw in closely followed by the Prince. Ogilvy robbed him of the ball, but had his stick hooked by the Prince when about to drive away. Bibby returned but failed to score, and then the Prince made a good run down the field, but was stopped by Ogilvy. Fisher then took possession of the ball and when well in passed to Ogilvy who scored a clean goal giving the whites the lead.

3RD. CHUKKA.

The Prince's team pressed from the opening, and working his way close in, H.R.H., just missed the goal by a couple of inches. He followed up with several other fine runs. Bowlby stopped the ball at the centre of the field and sent it in to Neville who put it through the posts with a strong drive and the scores read 2 all. The Prince was playing with dash at this juncture, and was boring his way through at every opportunity, but Mountbatten obstructed him. From a pass from Bowlby, the Prince made a clean run down the field, and had hard lines in missing what looked like a certain goal. Mountbatten made a good attempt to get through but was stopped in mid-field. The Prince secured the ball from Bowlby but he was well guarded by Fisher and the ball went behind. A little before the whistle, the Prince got away and exhibiting excellent control of pony and ball, went well in, but again failed to score by a narrow shave. The match resulted in a draw of 2 goals each.

The Prince then had tea with H.E. Major-General Sir John Fowler, K.C.M.G., C.B., D.S.O., and then took the field for the second match.

PRINCE'S IV v. HONGKONG IV.

The team fielded as follows:—

H.R.H.'s Team (Red):—No. 1, H.R.H. the Prince of Wales; No. 2, Lieut. Ogilvy; No. 3, Lieut. Lord Louis Mountbatten; No. 4, Lieut.-Com. Bowlby.

Hongkong Team (White).—No. 1, J. Bell-Irving; No. 2, J. E. H. Bibby; No. 3, Capt. Fisher; No. 4, Capt. Neville.

ROYAL VISIT.

I need not dwell at length upon His Royal Highness' qualifications to be added to the roll of our honorary graduates—a roll which commemorates signal services to the State, to humanity and to the cause of education in very diverse parts of the world and of which we are justly proud. To many in this audience, and to some upon this platform, H.R.H. is perhaps first and foremost an old comrade in arms: to all of us who owe allegiance to the British Crown he is the symbol of those bonds of Empire which, both at home, in India and throughout the dominions, he has done so much to consolidate: from those of our students who, drawn from every quarter of China, have come as the guests of the Colony to profit by Western learning he is assured of a respectful and more than hearty welcome.

Speaking as Vice-Chancellor of the University, a side of H.R.H.'s activities upon which I should like to dwell is the interest he has shown in every type of University work, an interest which is evidenced by his presence here to-day. To do so would, however, mean being challenged as to how far we with our ten years' history, are entitled to take our place side by side with the Universities of the Empire. Let us freely admit that we make no claims to rank as yet with those ancient foundations whose history is entwined with that of the Empire itself and whose special privilege it is to combine a zeal for all new developments of learning with respectful reverence for all that is best in the traditions of the past. And yet I would venture to maintain that, rightly understood, our very beginnings have a romance of their own. In Universities worthy of the name one of their most solemn ceremonies is the annual commemoration of their benefactors, and, already, our list of benefactors suggests a common effort on the part of very disparate elements which brought to be full of inspiration for us. If we owe some half of our resources to the liberality of the Colonial Government, our main buildings are due to the generosity of a Parsee gentleman who made his home and found fortune in Hongkong: the Taikoo benefactions stand for a group of British firms who are playing an important part in the development of the trade of China: the Loke Yew fund is evidence of a sense of obligation on the part of a class of Chinese who have found fortune abroad towards an education by which they themselves have not been privileged to benefit: for our schools of Physiology and Tropical Medicine, as well as for other generous gifts, we are indebted to the Ho family: while the original contribution of the Canton Government is a graceful—and more than a graceful—recognition of the utility of this University to this neighbouring country of China.

In this connection I am privileged to announce that a new element is about to be added to those from which our resources are drawn. It is, I believe, a matter of common knowledge that the Rockefeller Foundation of New York has had under consideration the possibility of assisting our medical faculty, and I may say that the conditions under which such help was likely to be available came before the University Council for consideration a week ago. Two days ago we received a telegram from the Foundation definitely promising a sum of half a million Hongkong dollars for the endowment of full time Chairs in Medicine and Surgery, the only conditions attached being conditions making for greater efficiency and for the fulfilment of which the Council confidently look to the generosity of other donors. Although the offer is at present limited, at our request, to the two Chairs of Surgery and Medicine, I may say we have every reason to look for similar help in the establishment of a full time Chair of Obstetrics so soon as we are in a position to take advantage of the grant.

If I dwell upon these benefactions—and there are others of considerable, if smaller, amount to which I should be glad to refer—it is in no spirit of insistence that natural resources are the only or even the chief source of strength for such an institution as this. It is rather to shew how wide and varied a response was evoked by our founders when they declared us an institution for the development and formation of the character of students of all races, nationalities and creeds. There is a danger that the pursuit of material gain should be regarded as the only bond of union between the men so strangely varied in race, in nationality and in creed, who make up this Hongkong of ours, and we are proud to stand as a living proof that this is not wholly true. To those of us whose duty and privilege it is to tender to the East the gift of Western knowledge, there sometimes comes the feeling that it is a dangerous gift we are proffering, and in such moments it is no little encouragement to us to feel that we do at least represent the conscious recognition by the community of moral duty: that, if we are faithful to our duty, no man can say that we of the West have come to exploit the East without offering to her the best of what we have to give.

The Vice Chancellor's speech was frequently interrupted by loud cheering and tin-whistling. At the end of it he turned to the Chancellor and said: "I beg to present to your Excellency His Royal Highness Edward, Prince of Wales, for the degree of Doctor of Laws in honoris causa." More cheers and "toot toots" followed and His Excellency formally conferred the degree upon him. The applause was ear-splitting when the Royal Honorary Graduate walked across with the Registrar to sign the Graduate's Register.

THE PRINCE'S R[illegible]

After asking the gathering [illegible] the body of the building to sit down, His Royal Highness said:

Mr. Chancellor, Vice Chancellor, Ladies and Gentlemen, I greatly appreciate the honour of being added to the roll of Honorary Graduates of the University of Hongkong. Although the University, open to all races and creeds is still in its infancy it is an active influence for good throughout China, drawing, as I observe, students from every quarter of that vast country who are profiting by Western learning and by all the advantages which it affords. I am convinced that the graduates it has turned out are helping to strengthen good relations all over China. Combining advantages of their own upbringing as Chinese, with the able tuition in modern science, in engineering, medicine and arts that has been brought to their doors by the University, they have vast opportunities to apply these benefits to the advancement of China as a whole whose need for men educated as they are is unlimited and is ever increasing with the march of civilisation. History will indeed record with gratitude the generosity of the late Sir Hormusjee Mody, who presented the main buildings to the University and the subsequent benefactions, handsome in the extreme of other firms and private gentlemen in in conjunction with the active and valuable co-operation of the Government of Canton. I foresee for the University a great future of usefulness and wish it every success.

His Excellency having closed the congregation the Prince, amidst another hearty demonstration, withdrew into his sitting room to prepare for the next ceremony.

ST. STEPHEN'S COLLEGE.

H.R.H. LAYS FOUNDATION STONE.

The University officials were still in their seats on and near the dais when the Prince reappeared to lay the foundation stone of the new St. Stephen's Girls' College. In front of the dais were the Bishop of Victoria, Lady Stubbs, Lady Brunyate. Miss E. S. Atkins and the Rev. E.W.L. Martin, who are members of the College Council. Supported by Sir Robert Ho Tung and Mr S. W. Tso, Chairman and secretary respectively of the college Building Committee. Archdeacon Barnett moved forward and addressed the Prince as follows:—

May it please Your Royal Highness

Sir,—For fifteen years past St. Stephen's Girls' College has represented in this Colony a happy fusion of Chinese and British ideals in the education of women.

It was at the suggestion of certain Chinese parents and with their promise of financial backing, that the Church Missionary Society opened this school in 1906.

St. Stephen's Girls' College has won recognition as a home for the higher education of girls. It attracts students not only from this British Colony but also from places far distant. Further, at the request of the University authorities this College is to receive into residence the first girl undergraduates coming from China to the University of Hongkong.

Hitherto, the school has been housed in rented premises, and its effectiveness has been sorely hampered by lack of space.

Now, this defect is to be remedied by the erection of extensive new buildings, the first portion of which is to cost $250,000.

Co-operating with the Church Missionary Society, there is an active building Committee composed of a number of Chinese gentlemen who play a prominent part in the official and business life of Hongkong. This Committee is guaranteeing $900,000, to which the Hongkong Government is adding a building grant of $80,000.

There is to us, Sir, the promise of a bright future in the fact that Your Royal Highness, the Heir apparent to the British Throne, should on this auspicious occasion graciously consent to cement this union of intellectual interests between East and West with a favour which shall for all time be an inspiration to such students as shall enter this building for the better training for life's service and citizenship.

As the foundation stone of the Chancel of St. John's Cathedral is a constant reminder of the visit of His Royal Highness, the Duke of Edinburgh in 1869, so in like manner shall we, and those who come after us, be given this day good cause to bear in grateful memory the visit to our distant Colony of our noble Prince who has deservedly won the free homage of all British peoples.

In the name, therefore, of the Church Missionary Society, the Council of the College and the Chinese Building Committee, I humbly beg that Your Royal Highness will now lay this stone of St. Stephen's Girls' College, which, being inscribed both in English and in Chinese, shall stand as a permanent token to us all of friendship, Loyalty and unity.

Following the Archdeacon's speech one of the head students, Ng Sui Hs, approached the dais, attended by two kindergarten girls, Kwok Tin Yau and Lau Ho Tung, and presented the Prince with an address in Chinese, the work of two of the students Un Chan, Kwan and Mary Ho Tung. The address was enclosed in a blackwood and silver case which contained the following English translation:—

May it please Your Royal Highness.

We, the students of St. Stephen's Girls' College, desire to approach your Royal Highness in order to offer our heartfelt congratulations and loyal welcome upon your arrival at this remote outpost of the British Empire.

It is a great privilege for us that upon the occasion of this—the first visit paid to Hongkong by a Prince of Wales—we are afforded an opportunity to convey our loyal sentiments to the Son and Heir of a Sovereign so beloved by his people and esteemed by other nations as is His Majesty King George.

We beg also to express a hope that your Royal Highness will experience satisfaction on finding that, in this Colony of the Far East, during recent years, under the enlightened reign of His Most Gracious Majesty, education has steadily spread its power, and its importance for women as well as for men is being increasingly recognised.

Your Royal example in working for the building of a nobler world has been a constant inspiration and stimulus to us who, as girl students, desire to prepare ourselves to take our part in this high endeavour.

We all feel grateful for the honour which Your Royal Highness has seen fit to confer upon us by your presence at this ceremony, and we shall ever look back with pleasure and pride to this memorable day.

With sentiments of loyalty and respect, we have the honour to be, Your Royal Highness' most obedient servants.

The students of St. Stephen's Girls' College.

After smilingly shaking hands with the girls, the Prince replied:

I have great pleasure in laying this foundation stone of St. Stephen's Girls' College. You observe, Mr. Archdeacon, that the College has won recognition as a home for the higher education of girls, and that its members are augmented from distant ports of China. The University of Hongkong has, I am informed, recently opened its doors to women under-graduates, and with the extended opportunities which the new College will offer them, it is to be hoped that many of the girls will subsequently enter upon a University career. In the present day there is undoubtedly a call to educate women to play a larger part in the life of China. They can do much to develop the position of women and I trust that the aims of the College may receive a full measure of success.

Walking across to a small table at the side of the dais H.R.H. amidst applause pulled a golden cord which automatically and simultaneously released the stone which had been placed in the wall of the College and the miniature replica of it which appeared in a model on the table.

MASONIC ADDRESS.

PRESENTATION BY MR. H. PERCY SMITH.

The next ceremony was the presentation of a masonic address by the deputy district grand master of English Freemasons, Hongkong and South China (Mr. H. Percy Smith), who, after he had been presented to H.R.H. by the Chief Justice (Sir William Rees Davies), stepped up to the dais and read the address as follows:—

To His Royal Highness.

Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David, Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester, Duke of Cornwall, Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Garrick, Baron of Renfrew, Lord of the Isles, K.G., G.C.S.I., G.C.I.E., etc., etc., etc.

Worshipful Sir,

Some of us remember the keen pleasure felt by the District Grand Lodge of Hongkong and South China when we had the honour of greeting as a Brother of our Order your Illustrious Uncle, Field Marshall H. R. H. The Duke of Connaught and Strathearn, some thirty years ago and again on his second visit when we received him as the Exalted Head of our Ancient Order but to-day we are, if possible, more proud to have the honour to receive your Royal Highness as a Brother and as Heir to the Great Throne of the Wonderful Empire over which your Illustrious Family has ruled so long and so beneficently.

We do not doubt that in the future we shall again have the honour of greeting you, Sir, when you will be occupying a more Exalted position in our Craft, and we feel that the ennobling principles and tenets of Freemasonry can stand in no danger of losing their lustre so long as the Highest in the Empire strengthen and encourage by their example and membership the more humble members of our Great Brotherhood.

We pray you, Sir, to accept our most earnest wishes that you may long be spared by the Great Architect of the Universe by your own example, to help our Brethren in the observance of those teachings by which Brotherly love and Fellowship may be more fully established to endure from generation to generation.

And finally we venture to ask you, Sir, to assure His Majesty, your Illustrious Father, the Great Protector of our Order, of the deep feelings of loyalty which all of us who are his Subjects entertain for him and of the profound respect with which he is regarded by all those Brethren of other Nationalities who are here present in our midst.

H. Percy Smith, Deputy District Grand Master of English Freemasons, Hongkong and South China.

H. B. Bridger, Acting Grand Master of the District Scottish Constitution.

E. J. Edwards, District Grand Master Depute Scottish Constitution.

After Mr. Percy Smith, who was supported by the acting Grand Master of the District Scottish Constitution (Mr. H. B. Bridger) and the District Grand Master Depute of the Scottish Constitution (Mr. E. J. Edwards,) had shaken hands with the Prince and returned to his seat in the hall the Chief Justice called forward Sir Paul Chater who would, he indicated, invite the Prince to allow a statue of himself to be erected in Statue Square.

SIR PAUL'S STATUE REQUEST.

WHAT H.R.H. PREFERS.

In making his request to the Prince Sir Paul said:

Replying, the Prince said:—

Right Worshipful Deputy District Grand Master and Brothers, I am very grateful for your fraternal greetings, which I heartily reciprocate. It is a pleasure to me to be reminded of the two visits paid to this Colony by the Grand Master of our Order, my uncle the Duke of Edinburgh; and I derive much gratification on being enrolled in the Craft to which my grandfather, King Edward VII, was so greatly attached. I trust that under the blessings of the Great Architect of the Universe our Masonic Order may continue to prosper in this great outpost of the Empire.

May it please Your Royal Highness,

Sir,—Before Your Royal Highness leaves Statue Square I would crave permission to draw attention to the several Royal Statues with which it is decorated, and of which we are in this Colony justly proud.

In the centre is the Statue of your August Great-Grand-mother, "Victoria the Good" erected by Public Subscription to commemorate the Jubilee of her reign, and unveiled on the 28th May 1896. In close proximity stand the statues of your Royal Grand-Father, and Grand-Mother, erected to commemorate their Coronation, the Statue of Queen Alexandra (Whom may God long preserve) being subscribed for by the Community, while it was my privilege to present to this Colony that of His Majesty King Edward VII.

At the same time it was thought fitting further to augment the decoration of this Square by statues of Your Royal Father and Mother, then Prince and Princess of Wales: and these were respectively presented to the Colony by two of our leading merchants. The statues of His Majesty King Edward and of Your Royal Father were unveiled in February 1907 by Your Illustrious Great-Uncle, His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, on the occasion of his second visit to this Island.

Now, Sir, I would pray your Royal Highness to permit me, as a fitting commemoration of your visit to the Colony, to adorn our Square by the addition of a statue of your Royal Highness.

After Sir Paul had finished his speech the Prince whispered to him for a moment or two and then Sir Paul, turning around to the gathering in the body of the Pavilion, announced: I may tell you that His Royal Highness has informed me that instead of having a statue of himself presented he would prefer that some very good thing may be done to the Colony in his name and I have very great pleasure in saying I will be glad to do so.

Vociferous applause followed Sir Paul's announcement and lasted until the Prince had withdrawn from the dais.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

CHARTERED BANK.

LONDON, April 5th.

At a meeting of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia, and China, Sir Montagu Turner, in summarising the position of Eastern markets generally, said the export markets mainly showed very little life. Import markets had improved to the extent that accumulated stocks are gradually being worked off, but it would be absolute folly on the part of shippers here to pour in fresh supplies which are not needed. The motto should be "slow and sure" until the depression disappeared and the purchasing power of consumers is nearly normal.

OPIUM TRAFFIC.

LONDON, April 6th.

The first meeting of the Society for the Suppression of the Opium Trade was held in Central Hall, Westminster.

Sir William Collins said the powers who signed the Peace Treaty were pledged to give effect to the decisions of the Hague Convention on Opium Traffic, but progress was painfully slow. The production of British morphia was greatly in excess of the requirements for legitimate uses. He ventured to say the world's production of opium and its products was also grossly in excess of legitimate medical uses. They had a Dangerous Drugs Act and he would like to know why similar legislation should not apply to India, where more than 150,000 acres is under poppy cultivation. Regarding British manufacture of morphia he regretted to say that up to a few weeks ago, there was no really effective control in operation.

Sir John Jordan gave the history of the steps taken in China to suppress the opium traffic. He recalled that when the last stage was reached there remained in the hands of foreign importers at Shanghai, 1,900 chests. The Government of India was prepared to buy back this surplus quantity, but His Excellency Hsu Chih Chang bought the lot and burned it, although the current value was £4,000,000.

Continuing, Sir John Jordan said he was sorry to say there had been a considerable lapse from the high standard reached by China, as some provinces now produced about a third of the quantity of opium which China produced in 1907. There were practical difficulties in the way of the adequate suppression of the traffic. One of these was that the Indian Government derived a considerable revenue from the export of opium. That Government had sacrificed £4,000,000 revenue already, and if pressed to make further sacrifices, might retort that China is already producing for herself what India is precluded from importing into China.

Mr. Chao Hsin Chu spoke of the genuine efforts made by the Chinese Government to rid its people of this terrible scourge. The Government entirely sympathised with the anti-opium movement and although opium is still grown in China the evil is very small compared with the importation of morphia. He was sorry to have to say that most of the morphia came from those countries where the anti-opium movement is carried on with the greatest energy.

Miss Lamotte said the attitude of the British Empire on the question was a real stumbling block to a better understanding with America. Where was the logic in having a Dangerous Drugs Act in this country, while the Indian Government made such a big revenue from opium? There were 17,000 drug shops in India. At one of the largest of them as many as 2,500 people were served in a single day. It was great pity to have this double standard for different parts of the same empire.

MANCHESTER COTTON INDUSTRY.

LONDON, April 5th.

The negotiating committee of nine employers and nine representatives of the cotton operatives, excepting card-roomers, met at Manchester yesterday and discussed the employers' demand for a wage reduction of six shillings in the pound.

The meeting was adjourned till to-day. It is understood that the employers refused to modify their demand and operatives are not able to submit any alternative offer.

CROWN COLONIES.

LONDON, April 6th.

A meeting of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce agreed to a resolution moved by Sir Algernon Firth in regard to the development of Crown Colonies and Dependencies, urging that provision should be made, wherever possible, for the reservation of Crown lands in return for any expenditure from the National Exchequer with a view to reimbursing such outlays in future and providing relief to the tax-payers Great Britain, and that the Colonial Secretary should be asked to receive a deputation on this matter.

COALITION UPHELD.

LONDON, April 6th.

After a most lively debate on a resolution moved by Sir W. Joynson-Hicks, which was tantamount to a motion of no-confidence in the Government, the House of Commons by 283 votes to 85, carried an amendment in favour of upholding the Coalition.

The minority consisted of the Die-Hards, Labourites and Independent Liberals.

AMERICA'S ALLIENS.

WASHINGTON, April 6th.

After a bitter debate, the House of Representatives passed a bill providing for the deportation of Aliens convicted of violations of the narcotic and alcoholic prohibition laws.

NOTED WAR ARTIST DEAD.

LONDON, April 5th.

The death is announced of Mr. Frederic Villiers, the famous war artist and correspondent.

PORTUGUESE SEAPLANE FLIGHT.

THE REV. JOHN MACGOWAN.

The London Missionary Society announces the death on March 17 of the Rev. John Macgowan, the well-known missionary.

Mr. Macgowan reached Shanghai in 1859, and in 1863 was transferred to the Amoy Mission. In that district he worked enthusiastically among the Chinese and built up many self-supporting churches.

He was a man of great literary gifts; his history of China and other works having had wide circulation. After over 50 years of service in China, he retired a few years ago, Until recently he was in vigorous health, constantly preaching and lecturing in the interests of the China Mission.

During Mr. Macgowan's residence in China he was extremely popular with Chinese as well as foreigners and his open-minded mission work will long be remembered. He was a talented writer, and his descriptions of life in China, especially in his books "Lights and Shadows of Chinese Life" and "Chinese Folk Lore" are well-known.

THE WORLD THEATRE.

This afternoon the most exciting and baffling mystery play ever produced, entitled, "A Voice in the Dark," in five parts will be screened at the World Theatre. The principal scenes of the story are laid at the private sanatorium of one Dr. Hugh Sainsbury where among other pastimes are Mrs. Lydiard, a deaf wheel chair invalid, Joseph Crampton, an aged blind man and Adele Warren, a Society Girl. The surprising element of the play is carefully followed out, so that the audience, until the very final scenes, does not know the identity of the murderer. The Paramount Magazine No. 3899 presents beautiful scenes worth seeing followed by a fine comedy.

THE economy of the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX is based on fact, not theory. The above average obtained under a variety of conditions—on dirt roads, over mountainous trails and through crowded city streets—is concrete evidence of its low petrol consumption.

The unusual economy of the LIGHT-SIX is due to its light, evenly-balanced chassis, and its patented Internal Hot-Spot, which is an exclusive Studebaker feature.

THE REV. JOHN MACGOWAN.

The London Missionary Society announces the death on March 17 of the Rev. John Macgowan, the well-known missionary.

Mr. Macgowan reached Shanghai in 1859, and in 1863 was transferred to the Amoy Mission. In that district he worked enthusiastically among the Chinese and built up many self-supporting churches.

He was a man of great literary gifts; his history of China and other works having had wide circulation. After over 50 years of service in China, he retired a few years ago, Until recently he was in vigorous health, constantly preaching and lecturing in the interests of the China Mission.

During Mr. Macgowan's residence in China he was extremely popular with Chinese as well as foreigners and his open-minded mission work will long be remembered. He was a talented writer, and his descriptions of life in China, especially in his books "Lights and Shadows of Chinese Life" and "Chinese Folk Lore" are well-known.

THE WORLD THEATRE.

This afternoon the most exciting and baffling mystery play ever produced, entitled, "A Voice in the Dark," in five parts will be screened at the World Theatre. The principal scenes of the story are laid at the private sanatorium of one Dr. Hugh Sainsbury where among other pastimes are Mrs. Lydiard, a deaf wheel chair invalid, Joseph Crampton, an aged blind man and Adele Warren, a Society Girl. The surprising element of the play is carefully followed out, so that the audience, until the very final scenes, does not know the identity of the murderer. The Paramount Magazine No. 3899 presents beautiful scenes worth seeing followed by a fine comedy.

TO-DAY'S CABLES.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

HOLLAND'S NAVAL PROBLEMS.

LONDON, April 6.

The Dutch Second Chamber began the debate on the navy budget and the bill for reorganisation of the fleet, which had been opposed as unnecessary after the Washington Conference. Mr. Karnebeek declined to postpone his departure to Genoa on account of this debate. He addressed the chamber to-day and said that although Holland's position in the Pacific was more secure since the Washington conference they had still to contend with the possibility of being obliged to maintain neutrality in the event of conflict between other parties. The Chamber by 56 votes to 15 decided to adjourn the debate of the Bill till Mr, Karnebeek returned from Genoa.

AN AUSTRIAN'S HEART.

FUNCHAL, April 6.

The body of the ex-emperor Karl was conveyed along a route lined with crowds to a temporary mausoleum in the parish church where in the presence of members of the imperial family the local bishop assisted by other clergy conducted a funeral service. The heart had been removed to be enclosed in a crystal urn within a silver casket and sent to Austria, the body itself going to Hungary. The King of Spain sent a wreath. Perfect weather favoured the procession. All business was suspended.

THOSE WAR DEBTS.

LONDON, April 6.

It is officially pointed out that the note mentioned yesterday does not constitute a demand for payment of interest but merely gives our allied debtors notice that the British government's freedom of action has been restored owing to the expiration of the understanding for a three year suspension of interest. Britain is providing in the 1922 23 budget for the payment of interest to the United States and does not want parliament's hands tied by action or inaction regarding allied debts.

AUSTRIAN MONARCHISTS.

VIENNA, April 7.

A great monarchist demonstration followed the requiem mass in the cathedral for ex-King Karl. Crowds marched through the principal streets singing the old National Anthem. They proceeded to parliament house where the president of the Chamber refused a deputation's request for the flag to be half masted. This was in consequence of opposition by some of the deputies. Mounted gendarmerie cleared the streets after the crowd's refusal to disperse.

LES DIFFICILES.

PARIS, April 6.

On the eve of the Genoa Conference, Poincare summoned the four French delegates and their experts and explained that they must confine their discussions strictly to economic and not political matters. They must refer every decision to the Government. France would not be bound by any recommendations of the conference unless ratified by parliament.

THE CRAZY IRISH

LONDON April 6.

All trains going southward from Ulster have been stopped by armed men at Dundalk and all goods from Belfast burned. Republican troops intercepted a train from Tralee and captured a hundred recruits meant for the official Irish army.

Ulster has appointed a military adviser to prepare plans for repelling invasion and to suppress Irish Republican activities in the six counties.

NATURAL OPINIONS

LONDON, April 6.

The chairman at Cammell Lairds annual meeting at Sheffield, referring to the acute industrial depression, said that armament firms were hit more severely than any others. The question must be decided whether their armament plant and expert staffs should be scrapped. He opined that it would be the height of folly for Britain to burn her boats and abandon her armament plant which it would take years to replace.

FRENCH ARMY.

PARIS, April 7.

The French Chamber by a substantial majority rejected two amendments aiming at a reduction of the term of military service from eighteen months to one year immediately or alternatively in 1925. Poincaré said Germany's attitude did not justify it.

SOAP AND HINDU LABOUR.

LONDON, April 6.

Lord Leverhulme, presiding at the annual meeting of Lever Brothers, condemned the government and especially the India Office for the refusal to permit the immigration of Hindus to the Solomon Islands where the company is able to provide employment for a trial period under strict governmental supervision.

BANKERS CLEARINGS.

LONDON, April 6.

The Bankers clearing house reports that the clearings for the week reached the record figure of 900 millions sterling. The previous record made in January was 913 millions.

THE CZECHO-SLOVAK LOAN.

LONDON, April 6.

The Czecho-Slovak loan mentioned yesterday was largely oversubscribed.

BOTTOMLEY.

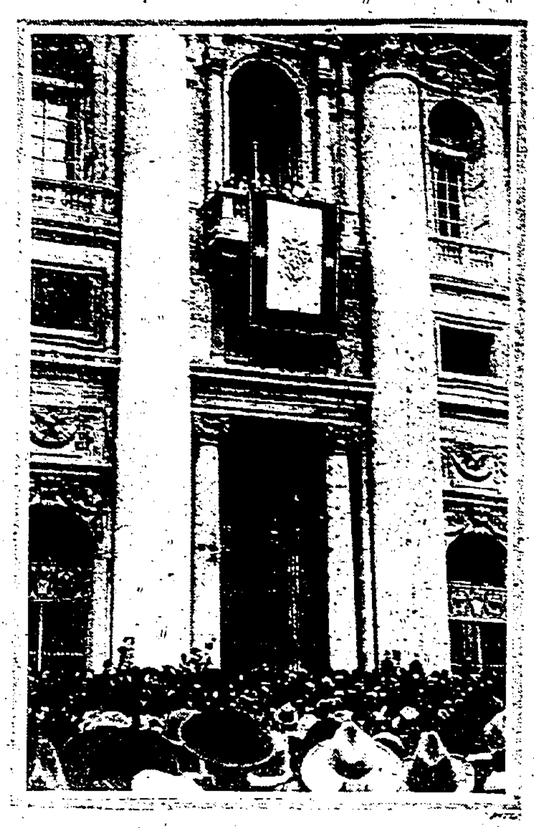

LONDON, April 6.

Bottomley's trial continues. The prosecution have announced two new charges of fraudulently converting" £6,500 and £10,000 of war bonds. The larger amount he is said to have used to settle a debt with his stockbroker.

ACCIDENT IN COMMONS.

LONDON, April 6.

Sir George Younger slipped while running upstairs in the House of Commons. He struck his head against the wall, and was knocked unconscious. He was removed in an ambulance to his home.

TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF.

IF you want a clear head and good digestion you must not let your bowels become clogged with poisonous waste from the body, as is always the case when you become constipated. Proper food, an abundance of water and plenty of outdoor exercise should keep your bowels regular. When that fails you should take Chamberlain's Tablets. They cause a gentle movement of the bowels and are easy and pleasant to take.

FRANK LLOYD'S PRODUCTION
A VOICE IN THE DARK

From The A. H. Woods Stage Success
By Ralph E. Dyar.

YOU'LL NEVER KNOW TILL THE LAST ELECTRIFYING SCENE!

The most exciting and baffling mystery play ever produced on the stage has been screened by Goldwyn. Nobody can see this picture without feeling that creepy shiver of anticipation which is the most delicious of thrills.

You'll never guess who killed Hugh Sainsbury handsome blond juggler of women's heart. We take that back. You'll guess—but you'll guess wrong! It beats the most exciting story you've ever read. If you're sound in wind and limb and you're sure you can stand a sudden shock, then by all means see.

NOTICE TO SHIPPERS AND PASSENGERS.

LITTLE BODIES AND BIG PAINS.

TEETHING WITHOUT TEARS THROUGH BABY'S OWN TABLETS.

The misery and pain that many babies suffer through teething time is expressed eloquently enough in fits of pitiful crying, fever, refusal of food, and diarrhoea or perhaps constipation. Baby's Own Tablets—guaranteed to contain no opiates and to be perfectly harmless—act like magic, relieve pain, comfort baby and give rest to the mother, while teething progresses without tears.

Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, are safe and pleasant for the youngest infant and the growing child. Besides being so helpful during the teething period they remove constipation, allay feverishness, cure colic, indigestion and worms.

Obtainable from chemists—also at 60 cents the vial, post free from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 98, Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

HONGKONG HARBOUR SHOWING MOORING BUOYS.

A YOUNG AUTHOR.

A California "boy genius" who has written three novels and is here at work on a fourth. Foolish people encourage him, for the sake of sensation.

NOT A KINEMA AD.

Dist. Atty. Woolwine reenacts murder. INT.

This is not a kinema poster. Inset man was murdered. A limelight loving Los Angeles official gets his chauffeur to lie down in the position of the corpse, and calls in the photographer.

THE UNION SPLIT.

ANOTHER BLACK DAY.

(Reuter's Services to the China Mail.)

LONDON, April 5.

The point on which the Unions have split is that the A. E. U. consisting of skilled men refuse to concede the point that managerial functions shall prevail in shops subject to any modification mutually agreed upon. As a result of subsequent negotiations at which forty-seven unions, consisting of unskilled and semi-skilled men were agreeable to exercise their functions prior to negotiation but though they accepted the principles for a new basis of negotiations, the application thereof will raise big questions that must be decided before agreement can be reached. It is emphasised to-day that settlement is still possibly remote but the recriminations of the divided unions have already occasioned talk of "Black Tuesday" being comparable with the "Black Friday" when the Triple Alliance collapsed.

MAINLY ABOUT RUSSIA.

LONDON, April 5.

Ramsay Macdonald has annoyed the Bolsheviks by denouncing Russia's Lullying of Georgia. The communist paper Rotefahne describes him as "an English imperialist sabotaging the Genoa Conference."

Lenin's illness is not cancer. He is still working.

Lloyd George's defence of his Russian policy has a bad Press. New York and Berlin papers express disappointment and Paris papers are not satisfied. The N. Y. Tribune calls it weak, and the Germans say he is shrinking from the fight for reconstruction. The French commend his firmness about treaties and reparations but scold him for comparing the French and Russian revolutions.

FRENCH PRESIDENT'S TOUR.

VISITING MOROCCO ALGERIA.

CASABLANCA, April 5.

President Millerand has arrived aboard an armoured cruiser for a six weeks' tour of Morocco, Algeria and Tunis. There is a long list of official ceremonies.

MESPOT BOTHER?

LONDON, April 5.

In the House of Commons Churchill stated that five members of the Mesopotamian Government had resigned owing to a difference of opinion with regard to the methods of dealing with raids on the southern Border. The air force, he said, had satisfactorily dealt with these raids meanwhile.

P. AND O. DIVIDEND.

LONDON, April 5.

The Peninsular and Oriental S. W. Co. has declared an interim dividend at the rate of twelve per cent per annum on deferred shares, tax free, for the six months ended March 31.

RUMOUR BELITTLED.

LONDON, April 5.

In the House of Commons at question time Churchill stated that the ammunition captured on the tug mentioned on April 3, could not exceed 25,000 rounds. There was not half a million as at first believed.

CZ-CHO-SLOVAK BONDS.

LONDON, April 6.

The prospectus has been issued for a Czecho-Slovak state loan of £10,000,000. Of that amount, £2,800,000 of eight per cent. sterling bonds at price 96½ will be offered in London.

THE PRINCE AT POLO.

1ST CHUKKA.

This chukka opened with smart mid-field play with neither side able to secure any advantage for some time. Bowlby was unfortunately hit on the face by a rising ball early in the chukka, but was not badly hurt and was able to continue. Hongkong were the first to press, and on one occasion came very near to scoring, but Bowlby cleared to mid-field. The Prince broke away, but was too closely followed to shoot effectively. After a free hit against Neville for crossing missed by inches, the Prince again got possession, and racing down the field just missed a fine goal. Neville hit out. The Prince rushed him, and carrying the ball through opened the scoring for his side amid loud cheers from the spectators. Hongkong pressed after this but the reds kept them out until towards the close when Neville equalised with a fast shot.

2ND CHUKKA.

The Prince's team pressed. Fisher saved beautifully and passed to Bibby who took it to the other end of the field. The Prince got possession from the hit out, and sent in a long shot which just missed. Immediately afterwards the Prince again got possession and racing away at a speed, cut the ball across goal and it just entered at the far post. He was enthusiastically applauded for this fine performance. Hongkong pressed for the rest of the chukka. They worked hard for the equalizer, but steady play by Mountbatten kept the Prince's citadel intact until the whistle when the Prince's team led by 2-1.

3RD CHUKKA.

The Prince's team attacked very strongly at the opening stages of this chukka and gave Hongkong a strenuous time. The Prince was well backed by Ogilvy and Mountbatten, and made several fine break aways, but the Hongkong defence was able to weather the storm and keep its goal intact. Some fine passing was seen in the middle of this chukka, but they were too fast for accurate shooting. The Prince made an excellent run down the line, but Fisher just caught him at the goalmouth and creditably saved what looked like a sure goal. Bowlby then showed a flash of brilliancy and gave a fine exhibition of dribbling, but Neville and Bibby guarded him well, and he was never allowed to get really dangerous. Mountbatten then had a shot at goal, but just missed. From the hit out Bell-Irving dashed away and centred beautifully to Bibby who was unmarked and scored the equalizing goal with a straight hard drive. Bibby and Bell-Irving gave Mountbatten a lot of work towards the close of the game, but he was equal to the occasion and successfully kept them out. When the final whistle came the game finished in a draw of 2 goals all.

The Prince's mounts were "Kingwood," "After Dark," and "Benjamin," three of the most well behaved and fastest polo ponies in Hongkong. He changed mounts at the end of each chukka, which were of 8 minutes' duration each, so that each pony was ridden twice.

After the match, the Prince departed in his motor car at about 6 p.m., through lines of cheering people extending as far as the tram terminus.

LONDON BOARDS OF GUARDIANS.

LONDON, April 6.

With the exception of Poplar and Shoreditch, where they gained respectively five and six seats and increased their majorities, and successes at St. George East and Mileend, the Labourites were crushingly defeated in the Poor Law Guardians elections of London. They lost notably in Lewisham, Hammersmith, Chelsea, Fulham, Lambeth, Westminster, and Paddington, where all the Labourites were unseated. Woolwich now has eleven instead of eighteen. Stepney reduced its 14 to three. Wandsworth has eleven where were 21. Southwark kept only one out of thirty, and Marylebone three out of 24.
